

Ovarian Cysts

Abdominal or pelvic pain?

here's what you need to know...

Ovarian cysts are fluid-filled sacs that develop in or on the ovaries. Most are harmless and resolve on their own. While many cysts cause no symptoms, some may lead to pelvic pain, abdominal pressure, or bloating.

What can you do?

Most ovarian cysts need no treatment and resolve naturally. Pain relievers or hormonal medications may be prescribed for symptom relief. Sudden severe pain may indicate rupture or torsion — prompt attention is essential.
